To Check Permits After September 1

Beginning September 1, state motorists will be required to check up their driving permits, Major R. T. Bishop, assistant director of state police, said this week. After that, drivers unable to show the new permits would be subject to arrest.

He pointed out that by September 1, Virginia drivers will have had two months anyway in which to get the new permits.

"We feel," he added, "that we have given automobile drivers plenty of opportunity to comply with the law, and now we feel that a penalty should be imposed on those who do not have a permit."

Motorists who have permits will be given a card showing they have been checked and the card will list the date and the name of the trooper. Motor Vehicle divisions in the state as well as the state police are out to honor old Virginia.

Approximately 600,000 permits have been issued since the beginning of the present period on March 16, but officials anticipated that over 750,000 would be applied for.

ISAIAH: A LIFE DEDICATED TO GOD

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 6:1-13
GOLDEN TEXT—Here am I; send me.—Isaiah 6:8

Crisis! We have had so many of them that they have almost become commonplace. There has been one war crisis after another. There have been world crisis and domestic crisis until the word has almost lost its meaning.

In the life of the individual, however, the times of crisis are very real and important. In a critical illness one knows when the crisis comes and he who safely passes that hour is on the road to recovery. More vital than a physical crisis is a spiritual crisis, when a man meets God face to face and his future destiny is determined by the response which he makes to God's call. Isaiah had such an experience when he came to realize God's glory, confessed his own unworthiness, and sought cleansing of life as a preparation for commission to service.

I. "I Saw the Lord" (vv. 1-4).

King Uzziah, who had begun well but had forgotten God, was at the end of his life, a leper because of his sin, and dying in disgrace. Israel which had known unprecedented prosperity under God's blessing now hardened its heart nationally against God and was also about to go into eclipse. God needed a man to speak for Him in such an hour, to bring to His people a message of judgment and also of blessed invitation. To prepare that man, the great Isaiah, God gave a remarkable manifestation of His glory and power.

It is essential that the man who speaks for God should first see the Lord high and lifted up and to hear of His holiness and glory. The negative tone of the present-day message, the lack of enthusiasm and interest in holy things, the low standards of personal holiness, the failure to preach boldly the truth regarding God's holy standards are to be explained by the fact that there has been no vision of the eternal holiness and glory of God. The need of the people today is the same as it was in the time of Isaiah. Where are the men and women who are ready for a vision like his and for the commission which will follow?

II. "Woe Is Me: for I Am Undone" (v. 5).

To see the holiness of God is to be immediately conscious of one's own sin and unworthiness. The obvious conclusion which one draws from that fact is that anyone who is proud, who is not concerned about his own sins and the sins of his people, is living far from God and has either never known or has forgotten about His divine holiness.

Isaiah spoke of the pollution of his lips, thereby confessing that his heart was not right. Whereof the heart is full, thereof speaketh the mouth, for we read in Matthew 12: 34 that out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. Remember that even though Isaiah was a believer he recognized the need of cleansing.

III. "Then . . . He Touched My Mouth" (vv. 6, 7, R. V.).

"Then" — what an important word! When Isaiah called out in humble confession, "then" he was cleansed. The turning point is right at that place for any life. Only when we come to the place of confession and contrition which Isaiah knew, can we expect the Lord to send the cleansing fire and the enabling power.

None but God can give this cleansing. Man is unable to wash himself clean. "For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord" (Jer. 2:22. See also Jer. 13:23). Reformation, turning over a new leaf, character development, all commendable in their place, are not sufficient. There must be divine cleansing of the life if there is to be a commission to service.

IV. "Here Am I; Send Me" (vv. 8-13).

God had a difficult and unpopular message to be delivered but now He had a man who was ready to carry it. Isaiah had to proclaim to Israel that because they had turned from the sunshine of God's love, which would have melted their hard hearts, it had for them become the sunshine of His wrath, which could only progressively harden them and turn them from Him. The same sunshine that melts the wax hardens the mud.

The work of God in our day awaits the man or the woman of vision—the one who has been prepared by confession and cleansing and who has then received the divine commission.

Faith

Of all the forces at the disposal of humanity, faith has always been one of the most tremendous, and the gospel rightly attributes to it the power of moving mountains.

Four Mentioned For Koiner Post

Four men are being mentioned around Extended Capitol hill in connection with the position of state commissioner of agriculture and immigration, now occupied by the late Dr. Kenyon Butterfield, who had held the position for 40 years. Mentioned are: Rowell Page, Jr., of Hanover county; L. M. Walker, Jr., formerly county agent of Henrico county, who was named assistant commissioner early last year; Berkley Adams, former state corporation commissioner and member of the House of Delegates, who failed of renomination in the recent primary in Charlotte county; and Nelson Beck, of Charlottesville, who was one of those considered for the assistant commissionership last year.
